

OBESE KIWANIAN BEATEN BY LEANS

Avoidupois Was Dominating Factor in Ball Game at Club's Picnic

Members of the Sand Springs Kiwanis club, who were surprised into inactivity, Thursday night, when 100 Kiwanians with their wives and families, packed through the playground, playing ball, riding the merry-go-round, dancing, bathing, and last, but not least, eating fried chicken and a lot of trimmings.

The Kiwanians left Tulsa about 4 o'clock, and it was near midnight when they returned. They had no success in the ball game, for the Avoidupois team, which was the first number on a crowded program, was too strong for them.

Albert H. Bell was in charge of the swimming pool and it was he that satisfied the earlier part of the program. Bell was dressed in a becoming suit of light-colored material, and looked confident in his gaudy, but unassuming, yet his dress was the first prize, which was won by the first number on a crowded program.

The game was won by W. A. Woodard, a local manufacturer, who was the only one who was not over the weight of 200 pounds.

Woodard was general chairman of the arrangements committee, and was assisted by Ed Brown and Ray Koser. They were packed with the dates of seeing the program was carried out to the letter—which they did.

Ed Brown was captain of the "Leans" team and W. D. Moss was captain of the "Avoidupois" team. The "Leans" won the game, 10 to 5, after a hotly contested game in which perspiration took the most prominent part.

Frank H. Reed, who has built two making pools for boys and girls in Tulsa parks, took more than 150 youngsters on the merry-go-round. With the youngsters went a number of Kiwanians who were dancing until nearly midnight in the large dancing pavilion at the park, at which both round and square dances were popular.

New York Drama News

From the Dallas News.

Vacation everywhere in summer, but not for theatrical writers in New York, for here is tied down in preparation for summer and early fall productions. This is requisite to meet the demand of worldwide visitors to the greatest city on the globe.

Not in the last ten years has any other musical production given "The Last Waltz," the latest Oscar Straus operetta, which is crowding the Century theater. It has been acclaimed as the most tuneful, the most gorgeous, and the most wholly delightful musical offering that New York has seen in decades.

"The Whirl of New York," the latest winter garden contribution to the lavish series of musical productions for which this famous institution has become known the world over, presented there by the Mosses Lee and J. J. Shubert, is serving as the summer attraction at the Winter Garden.

"Just Married," Please, "Just Married," with Vivian Martin and Lynne Overman, the unassuming faces by Adelaide Mathews and Ann Nichols, is playing to capacity at every performance at the Shubert theater.

The action of the play takes place about the French steamer L'Arlette, bound out from Bordeaux, France, to New York. There are several oddily assorted couples aboard, from those grown old in matrimony to various sets of honeymooners, willing and unwilling.

Jennie Jacobs Woodruff, who appeared in Augustus Thomas' play, "Nemesis," will play the part of Lucille Berkeley in Rot Cooper Moore's new play "Honors Are Even," in which the Selwyns will star William Courtney and Lola Fisher.

Mrs. Leslie Carter is en route from her home in Versailles to America to begin rehearsals for the Selwyns' production of "The Circle,"

Somerset Maugham's delightful comedy, which opens the new season of the Selwyns theater early in September with an all-star cast, including John Drew.

Gordon's New Play. The Selwyns announced the New York premier of "The Poppy Field" at the Hudson theater on August 25. This is the new play by Leon Gordon, Le Roy Clements and Thomas Grant Springer, in which Ralph Morgan will give a characterization totally different from anything he has ever done.

George V. Hobart, who will be produced by the Selwyns in New York early in August, with Emma Dunn and Ernest Glendinning in the leading roles.

Sam H. Harris has acquired the services of Florence Moore for Irving Berlin's "Music Box Revue," which will open the new Music Box theater now nearing completion in West Forty-Fifth street.

Miss Moore, who will be the leading comedienne at the Music Box, is making a brief vaudeville tour on the Keith circuit prior to beginning rehearsals in the Harris production.

Sam H. Harris has engaged Sidney Blackmer for an important role in "Varying Shore," the Zoo Akim play in which he will produce early in the fall.

Mr. Blackmer's most recent Broadway appearance was in the series of one-act plays written and produced by Clare Kummer at the Punch and Judy theater. Before that he had earlier in the season scored a big personal success in the leading male role in "Not So Long Ago."

New "Merry Widow." What will the new Merry Widow be like? Henry W. Savage, who is now preparing a revival of the most successful of all operettas, confesses to knowing something about the new scenery, the cast and even the costumes that will decorate his production of "The Merry Widow" next fall. But as to the Merry Widow, he says, "nobody knows."

Henry W. Savage, "unless it be Miss Peggy Holt." Now, since the millinery of three countries—France, England and America—confidently expect the new Merry Widow hat to have the same effect on hat fashion as its prototype, the old Merry Widow hat of 14 seasons ago—Miss Peggy Holt. As creator, designer and executor of the new Merry Widow hat, is the envy of the entire millinery world.

Maria Browder and Blanche Bing all rolled into one.

Phoebe Lee, a dancing beauty, in the cast of George White's "Scandals of 1921," claims to be the possessor of the most fiery red hair that has been seen on a Broadway stage since the days when Mrs. Leslie Carter was the talk of the town.

George Broadhurst is under contract to produce four plays this coming season, the first of which is to be a dramatic (stage) version of Edgar Rice Burroughs' "Tarzan of the Apes," which play is to be the opening attraction at the Broadhurst theater.

The Bohemians, Inc., A. L. Jones and Morris Green, managing directors, announce many important productions for the present season. John Murray Anderson will devote and stage the third annual production of the Greenwich Village Playhouse and it will be known as the Greenwich Village Playhouse, 1921.

The Greenwich Village Playhouse, 1920, will begin its second season at Atlantic City in August and will go to Pittsburgh, Detroit and then to Chicago for the annual season in September.

The Greenwich Village Playhouse, 1921, will begin its third season early in September and will play through the west and south. This attraction holds the record for the run of a musical on tour.

"Carnival," the elaborate screen spectacle produced by Harley

Marion, featuring Matheson Lang and presented by S. L. Rothbart at the Capitol theater, was produced on the most lavish scale and one of the big pictures of the year. Added to this was a superb musical program all of which was due to Mr. Rothbart's genius.

"Old Nod" Film. Two complete casts of principals are required for the filming of "The Old Nod," the Rupert Hughes' picture which Goldenrod presents at the Astor theater. "The Old Nod" guarantees itself with an American farce covering a long period of years, and the movie cast was designed to portray the characters just as children and later as men and women.

The delightful group of children who have been playing in the "Old Nod" comedies, including Johnnie Jones, Lucille "Hiccup" and Buddy "Moose" are appearing in important roles in "The Old Nod" as exponents of the younger generation.

Little Miriam Ballera, whose delightful acting in "Fanny Hums" "Humoresque" established her as one of the foremost child actresses of the screen, has returned to her first love, the speaking stage, for a special engagement in the Moscow Shubert's "The Whirl of New York," current at the New York Winter Garden.

According to reliable authority, Madame Alla Nazimova, famous star of the stage and screen, has accepted the production of a play in which all the characters are women, which all the characters are women, which all the characters are women.

The actress concert at Columbia university are attracting thousands of people nightly. The location is ideal and the acoustics is the open air all that can be desired.

The Goldman concert band and its maestro conductor, Edwin Franko Goldman, were again received with great enthusiasm and the program which are prepared with careful thought meets with the approval of the vast crowds of 10,000 to 12,000 people.

The Dramatic Guild of the Authors' League of America, Inc., and the Society of American Dramatists and Composers, Inc., yesterday afternoon announced subject to the first ratification of the full membership and formed a society which will be known as the American Dramatists' Guild.

It embraces in its membership practically every man or woman in America willing for the stage.

Christian Ministers' Assembly. Held in the West.

ENDED July 23. About 125 members of the Lakewood Ministerial Institute, an organization of Kansas and Oklahoma ministers of the Christian church, assembled at the Lakewood, Wednesday evening for the first session of the institute.

The opening of the evening was given by J. R. Hendrick, pastor of the First Christian church of Newton, Kan., Charles Hume of Wichita, Ia., a theological service and N. Vance A. Smith of Okemah had charge of the music. The wives of the ministers were entertained at a reception at the Lakewood Thursday afternoon.

Found Issue for Improvements. Held in the West.

PASADENA, July 23.—The city commissioners have under consideration a proposition to submit to the voters a bond issue for $145,000 for the city's water improvements.

Changes in the electric light plant, with the installation of new engines, will cost $100,000. Storm sewers on Broadway and Lynn avenues will amount to $45,000, while sanitary sewers will cost $25,000.

For 5 Cents Cheaper. Held in the West.

PASADENA, July 23.—A reduction in the price of ice from 75 cents per 100 to 75 cents has been announced by the Pasadena Ice company.

Arrange to Attend the University of Tulsa This Year

Consider Its Advantages

—In Convenience

All of the advantages presented by schools of the same kind anywhere will be found right here in Tulsa at this University. We have authoritative information that the paving will be completed, connecting the city with the University, by September 15th. This will make for greater convenience for those people who live in Tulsa.

—In Courses of Study

The credits of the University of Tulsa are accepted everywhere at their face value for pre-medical, preparatory courses for engineering, law, commerce and business administration and the liberal arts—music, oratory and art. The University of Tulsa is fully qualified to give its students the very best instruction and to confer the degrees of Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science. Here the student actually receives personal instruction from the heads of the departments, a fact not usually found in universities, except of the size of the University of Tulsa.

—In Economy

$100 spent at the University of Tulsa will mean as much as from $600 to $1,000 at any other university for those students who live here, and it allows students to be under the direct supervision of the parents, a very vital factor in the development of young men and women at this critical age.

—In Facilities

The buildings, equipment and personnel of the faculty of the University of Tulsa compare favorably with some of the largest institutions of the kind. That you may appreciate the standing that the University of Tulsa has attained, we point to the fact that the University of Tulsa teams won the Oratorical Contest, tied in the Pentangular Debating Contest, won the State Music Contest in voice and was second in Piano. In other courses of study the school attains as high a standard. So that graduates leaving the University will have that assurance of having an education that will reflect nothing but credit to the University of Tulsa.

IN ATHLETICS

The University of Tulsa "Makes History"

Development of the mental, moral and physical phases of the student's life is the aim of the University of Tulsa, and we have made physical training one of the prescribed courses for both men and women. Able instructors have charge of this work and the results have been entirely satisfactory. Additional attention is paid to athletics and we have one of the ablest coaches in the Southwest in Coach Schmidt. Under his guidance teams of the University of Tulsa have been able to pile up records.

In Basketball, for the season 1920-1921, the University of Tulsa won the state championship, a performance that it duplicated the year before.

Women students have the opportunity of indulging in various forms of athletics such as tennis, basketball and swimming, and some very interesting contests have been staged.

Records Under Coach Schmidt the foot ball team of the University of Tulsa has suffered but one defeat in four years. It holds the state championship and has one of the most enviable reputations in the entire Southwest. These victories have been accomplished in spite of strenuous schedules that have been placed with teams of colleges four or five times the size of the University of Tulsa. Students find it a pleasure to be members of such athletic teams as represent this school.
